100 PLANES HUNT AIR LINER

Today

Allah, Allah, Airplane.
The Feminine Mind.
Rules to Be Broken.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE Arabs of Hebron offer apologies for killing 45 Jews, 12 of them Americans. That does not do the dead much good, but it is a good sign.

Hebron Arabs, bringing vegetables and cattle to the Jerusalem market, as usual, on Tuesday, found no buyers among the Jews and had to sell at painfully low prices to Arabs.

Perhaps that made them feel apologetic.

ALSO the presence of British airplanes zooming overhead, conveniently close to the holy Mosque of Omar, and, delightful irony, a battery of British cannon located on the Mount of Olives threatening the sacred mosque and the Mohammedan quarter, may have had a discouraging effect.

MOHAMMEDAN children going to school sing: "The rivers of Paradise as they flow murmur 'Allah, Allah.' The angels in Paradise as they walk sing 'Allah, Allah.'"

As present the Arabs are not singing Allah, but talking airplanes, different and painfully real.

THE International Congress of Psychology learns that married life brings the male mind closer to the feminine mind.

Investigation of "sex differences" primarily non-intellectual," says Dr. Erman, shows that married life weakens "mental masculinity."

NATURALLY and fortunately, men were once all cannibals, all murderers, all thieves. To meet a stranger was to kill him, or run so that he wouldn't kill you. Women had to change that gradually, in their husbands and in their little boys also. They have done it, partly. Much work remains for the feminine mind.

A PASSENGER on the Zeppelin remarked: "Rules were meant to be broken," and secretly smoked a cigar, bringing flame within touching distance of the Zeppelin's highly explosive gas bag.

One spark would have blown everybody on board to destruction.

THAT American passenger's motto, "rules were meant to be broken," is quite American, beginning in respectable quarters with contempt for the constitution, reaching all the way to the gunman in the gutter and the fool in the Zeppelin.

ST. JOHN ERVINE, British, urges fellow Britons, men and women, to come to America and "preserve the Nordic race." He is afraid of Latin-Slav dominations "in the States."

THERE are good female jobs here, says he, and 60,000 British and Northern Irish girls should come, get the jobs, and, contributing Nordic babies, keep this country from becoming Latin and Slav.

MR. ERVINE's plan would interest Christopher Columbus, who was not Nordic, but partly Spanish and partly Jewish.

JURORS HEAR BLOODY STORY

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 6.—Dramatic details of the bloody conflict between striking textile workers and the police of Gastonia, N. C., which resulted in the death of Police Chief O. F. Adersholtz were being unfolded to the jury in the tiny court house here today as the state continued its task of proving 16 radical strikers and communists guilty of murder and conspiracy.

In the center of the imposing group of state's counsel sat the black-gowned figures of Adersholtz' widow and her eldest daughter, Ethel, prepared to take the stand and reveal a statement made by the Police Chief before he died.

A city-wide search was begun in an effort to apprehend the hit-and-run driver.

COOPER URGES WORLD PEACE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—"We must join together and put a stop, once and for all, to the spirit of misunderstanding which drives nations into a settlement of disputes through such brutal methods as lie in the sin and horrors of war," declared Governor Myers V. Cooper today, addressing an audience at the Ohio Methodist Episcopal annual conference here.

The most important function of the church is the promotion of the ideals of world peace, the governor said. Too much emphasis is being placed upon the subject of law enforcement, he declared. He felt every citizen, as well as law-enforcement officers, should be interested in seeing that the laws are observed.

The governor said that better churches are being built and more money is being spent for religious purposes.

MOTORIST FACES JUDGE RIDDLE

Joseph Geskey, Leontia, employee of the Columbiana Boiler company, was held today for a hearing before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle upon a charge of driving while intoxicated, following his arrest by Constable E. L. Mitchell, of Columbiana.

Mitchell is alleged to have stopped Geskey late Tuesday night for driving his car without headlights. The prisoner resented the constable's action and Mitchell claimed he was forced to use his hands and bill.

Geskey escaped from the village jail Wednesday morning and was rearrested yesterday, taken before the mayor of Columbiana, who fined him $25 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. He was brought to Lisbon today to face a second charge.

STOCK MARKET PRICES SOAR AT OPENING

Nervous Traders Breathe Sigh of Relief.

TICKER SINGS "Bargain Hunters" Take Advantage of Break.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The stock market price pendulum, which dipped so sharply late yesterday, swung upward with almost equal vigor at the opening of Wall Street activities today.

Thousands of traders, both large and small and both men and women, who had been on nettles over night regarded a possible continuation of the price decline, breathed a sigh of relief when the stock quotation ticker began to tap out its song of higher prices at the opening of the market.

Investment trusts, powerful interests and millionaire "bargain hunters" took advantage of the break in prices to buy vigorously at the opening of the market. The result was that prices bounced upward from three to eight points and the sunshine of bullish enthusiasm once again drove the bears to cover.

Anacoda Copper, American Can, Radio, Loose Miles Biscuit, General Electric, International Telephone and Telegraph and Industrial Alcohol were among the stocks that rose upon opening transactions.

H. F. SINCLAIR PAROLE PLEA TURNED DOWN

Oil Magnate Must Serve Sentence in Jail.

DAY ALSO LOSES

Millionaire's Appeal Will Not go to President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Harry F. Sinclair's plea for parole from the District of Columbia jail, where he is serving a sentence of nine months on two contempt convictions, has fallen on deaf ears.

His application for liberty, it was learned today, has been disapproved by the judges who sat in the cases, and also by the department of justice, and it probably will be denied without even being referred to President Hoover.

The oil magnate still has about ten weeks of his sentence to serve. H. Mason Day, one of his business associates, who is also serving a term in jail for his connection with the jury-shadowing in the Fall Sinclair conspiracy trial, will likewise be denied parole.

The applications were considered jointly.

MAN CALM AS HIS HOME BURNS

ASHLAND, Ky., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Nero showed no consternation while Rome, the Eternal City, burned, and today the citizens of Fairview, a suburb, are remarking on the nonchalant manner William Keeton affected as his $5,000 residence burned.

The uncommon thing about this blaze is the time it chose to display its illumination. Keeton had the pleasure (perhaps) of noting a dozen fire chiefs in action. The fire heads were in town for a convention and all went along with the local department and even though they could not save the house they kept the other many homes from the licking tongue of the blaze.

CANTON COACH LINE OPPOSED

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Protest was lodged today with the state utilities commission by officials of the Mid-Western Motor company against the application of the Canton-East Liverpool coach company for permission to operate a motor transportation line between Canton and East Liverpool.

The Mid-Western protest claimed that there is no necessity for authorizing the Canton-East Liverpool coach company to operate over this route because the territory affected is adequately served by the Mid-Western company.

145-FOOT FALL KILLS PAINTER

MANSFIELD, O., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Instant death was the fate of Henry J. Ruhl, 38, when he fell here today from the top of a 145 foot smokestack which he was painting.

Losing his balance, Ruhl fell inside the stack, head first.

LA CROFT AIDS PLAN TO BUILD ZONE SCHOOL

Residents of the LaCroft, Sherwood and Westfield districts, will join with the board of education in the erection of a two-room school and community building, on a site in LaCroft, acquired by the board for $900. It was announced today.

A committee from the Sherwood, LaCroft-Westfield Community association, headed by William Barrett, appeared before the board last night to pledge the co-operation of the men of the association in the erection of the building.

The association had agreed to construct the water line from Lincoln highway to the school and to provide the foundation for the building, a frame structure, probably 60 feet long and 24 feet wide.

Will Employ Carpenter.

The site consists of six lots totaling 300x130 feet. It is located east of the Lincoln highway in the center of the Sherwood-LaCroft and Sherwood zone. The property was acquired from J. F. and Edward Gray.

The committee was instructed to circulate a petition among members of the association to determine the exact amount of volunteer labor which might be expected in the erection of the building, which is intended to house children of the first and second grades and possibly the third.

Board members explained that funds are budgeted and that in order to provide the school expenses in an other department must be cut. If residents of the district are able to furnish a large part of the labor, the board will buy materials and employ a carpenter to supervise the work. One of the committee members agreed to wire the structure.

ARMY AND NAVY FLIERS SOAR OVER ARIZONA

No Trace Found of Ship With Eight Aboard.

WEATHER CLEARS

T. A. T. Cancels All Traffic to Speed Search.

By LYLE ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—Northern Arizona early today was the objective of 100 commercial and government service airplanes from surrounding states flying to augment transcontinental air transport planes in the search for the missing passenger craft "City of San Francisco" lost since it flew into terrific storms over Arizona Tuesday noon with eight persons aboard.

Commercial Ships Assist.

It was to be the greatest concentration of scouting ships ever formed in peacetime history.

Improved weather, it was hoped, would clear the air and permit solution today of the mystery of the lost airliner.

In addition to 25 T. A. T. and chartered planes at Winslow, headquarters of the air hunt today, 85 commercial ships were to leave Los Angeles airports after dawn.

Army and navy ships were on the lines at Rockwell field, San Diego, March field, Riverside, Calif., Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex., and Colorado, New Mexico and Utah points.

H. W. Beck, traffic manager for the T. A. T., here had canceled all air traffic so equipment might be used in the search. Private dispatching wires of the T. A. T. suspended all business except orders directing search operations.

Endurance Fliers Aid.

At Winslow, Ariz., Paul Collins, general operating manager, and John Collins, western superintendent of the T. A. T., were in personal charge of the squadrons.

Colonel Paul Henderson, vice president of the company, had obtained from Washington, D. C., every assistance the government could give.

Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien, St. Louis Robin endurance record holders, were to fly from St. Louis today to join in the hunt.

Walter Parkin, U. S. aero inspector here, had dispatched his aide, R. J. Hazen, to the field for the department of commerce.

Burrill Smith, sales manager of the Aero Corporation of California, who discovered the body of Major John Wood, Los Angeles-Cleveland air racer, early this week, again had taken to the air in a renewed search of rain-soaked Arizona deserts.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—General satisfaction with the prohibition situation in Ohio was voiced today by Rupert R. Beetham, state prohibition commissioner. Beetham commended Ohioans for the support they have given him.

"This department was not created to police the state, but to secure the cooperation of citizens in maintaining the prohibition laws," said Beetham. "In almost every instance, Ohio men and women admirably responded to our calls, and, as a result, the prohibition situation in Ohio is better than ever before."

City Pushes $3,500 Sewer Repair Work

Service Department Rebuilding No. 2 Breaker in McQueen's Run; Other Jobs On Program.

WELLSVILLE, O., Sept. 6.—Carrying out a $3,500 improvement program approved by council recently, city service department today is engaged in the rebuilding of the No. 2 breaker above McQueen's Run sewer.

In turn, the service department will complete repair work on the Belt line sewer and the Tenth street drainage system.

The No. 2 breaker in McQueen's run was virtually destroyed during the progress of a storm more than two months ago. The No. 1 breaker held fast, however, and provided the protection to the sewer for which it was designed.

This work is the most important on the improvement program and probably will be completed before the municipal forces turn attention to the other sewers.

It is hoped that revival meetings will be started about the first of October. Installation of the meter will mark the first step toward construction of a filtration plant. George B. Patterson of Wellsville was the only bidder on the Michael alley work. The estimate for the work is $3,250. The alley will be surfaced with either brick or concrete on a rolled slag base.

Drive Slowly—School Zone

Despite the fact that 6,000 children trekked to public and parochial schools this week, marking the opening of the 1929-30 term, and hundreds of them necessarily wended their way through streets on which traffic is heavy, not one automobile accident in which a pupil was injured was reported in East Liverpool.

This record speaks well for the inculcation of safety first ideas in the young minds as well as the carefulness of Ceramic City motorists, who, with few exceptions, observe common sense regulations in an effort to reduce the appalling toll exacted annually by automotive vehicles.

However, the nine-month term is just beginning, and notwithstanding that teachers stress the dangers of traffic before dismissing their young charges at the end of the day's work, it will require cooperation between pupils and automobile operators if East Liverpool is to keep the accident slate clean.

No small part of the responsibility rests upon the shoulders of motorists, for children of tender years often take risks that imperil their lives in traffic on streets near school buildings. Thus it is important that automobilists heed the admonition, "Drive slowly—School zone," displayed on Columbus County Motor club signs in school zones.

Perhaps some motorists have grown a little careless this summer in driving through school zones. It is not unusual for autoists to speed near school buildings during vacation, for they know there are no children playing where they may dart into the streets in front of them. And if East Liverpool drivers have fallen into this habit, they must abandon the practice. There are children at these points now.

Let's make the 1929-30 school term a no traffic accident period.

Denial Of Mail Contracts

It is hard to understand the action of Postmaster General Brown in refusing to allot mail contracts to the United States Lines, Inc.

The people of the United States have paid out something like $2,000,000,000 to establish a merchant marine commensurate with our importance as a world power and the size of our foreign trade. The greater part of that vast sum was sunk in creating shipyards during the World war on a cost-plus basis and building ships, hundreds upon hundreds of them, which were obsolete in design, not only when they were constructed, but also even before their keels were laid. We feel safe to say that there never was before, nor has there been since, a money-burning orgy on a scale so vast. From the close of the war until quite recently the government had the handling of all the ships they built and a number of enemy vessels seized during the war. The United States shipping board had the handling of all these merchant ships, and did its utmost to build up a merchant marine such as we need and should have. It established lines to all parts of the globe where there was indication of profitable business. It is worth noting that the backbone of its chief line consisted of vessels taken from Germany. Government ownership and operation proved a losing proposition from start to finish, and every effort was made to sell the vessels under the board's control to private interests. Most of the liners were sold at great sacrifice.

The six vessels of the United States line and the five vessels of the American Merchant line were bought by the Chapman interests—the United States Lines, Inc.—on the natural assumption that they would participate in the mail-carrying contracts, which were intentionally planned to be advantageous for the building up of a privately-owned American merchant marine.

The public may not understand the situation. There may be facts which have not been divulged, but there is a rather general feeling that, just as there was a chance for the upbuilding of a real privately-owned American merchant marine and a real start had been made on it, the postmaster general, by his action, threw a monkey-wrench into the machinery.

What Price Beauty?

The flapper, if we are to credit one of the speakers before the tenth annual gathering of the National Association of Cosmeticians and Hair Dressers in Chicago, is a factor in the success of the beauty parlor business, but far from the chief one. That distinction goes to the mothers and the grandmothers of the land.

"Women under thirty years, buying their beauty a la carte," Mrs. Ruth D. Maurer, of New York, told the assembled delegates, "go in extravagantly for faddish make-ups and hair-cuts, but the larger profits come from older women who order their cosmetics and beauty culture table d'hôte, from hair waves to pedicures," and she offered statistics to show that the average woman now spends $50 a year on cosmetics and beauty culture, at the same time predicting that in the near future women would spend a minimum of $100 annually for the purpose.

The amazing expenditures of women in the pursuit of beauty were brought out by another speaker, Frances Martell, secretary of the national organization. The sum paid out by women each year for cosmetics, she said, exceeded that paid out by both men and women for tobacco, candy and the movies.

Of course, men folks have long had a suspicion that the women folks powdered and painted a bit and occasionally have wondered if some of the peaches and cream complexions might not possibly be what, back in the days before such places went in for almost everything from tacks to threshing machines, were known as the drug store variety, but little did men ever imagine that the women folks load on the stuff to the extent indicated by these figures divulged in Chicago.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—A new big business venture of more than casual importance recently was set on foot in the form of a project for the organization of nation-wide chain stores operated by negroes. The matter is of importance and interest not only because of its commercial aspects but also because of profound racial prejudices which have been the real provocation for the move.

The National Negro Business league recently held its thirtieth annual convention at Indianapolis, Ind., and it was there that the negro chain store enterprise was launched. It is to be known as the Colored Merchants Association and chain stores are to be opened, as a beginning, at New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Baltimore, St. Louis, Atlanta, New Orleans, Houston, and Kansas City. These cities have been selected for initial effort because each has a very large negro population.

The department of commerce, which had a representative at the convention where the scheme was set on foot, is watching for progress with eager interest as the plan is singular in many respects. No other large business enterprise was ever started for such a reason, in all probability, and its success or failure is of importance from the point of view of sociology and race study as well as from the commercial aspect.

The principal reason for the action of the negro business men behind the movement is a self-defensive one. Negroes, the country over, have been conspicuously unsuccessful in attracting the custom of people of their own race. In the Harlem section of New York, populated very largely by negroes and, in fact, constituting in itself the largest negro city in the world, there has been a good deal of agitation over the last few months because of what has been called a boycott of negro stores by negroes.

Although negro business establishments in Harlem are estimated to have an aggregate value of $5,000,000 and include a great many varieties of merchandising, most of them have been going through a difficult struggle because of lack of negro patronage which negro leaders have outspokenly termed an outright boycott.

In the aggregate, throughout the country, there are 30,000 negroes having merchandising businesses of their own, largely grocery stores, although restaurants and other establishments are included in that number. There are 88 negro manufacturers engaged in 55 different lines of production. In addition to these purely commercial establishments, some 70,000 negroes conduct business of a personal service nature such as valet service, barbershops, and the like. But all of these establishments have failed to attract the custom of race-brothers of their proprietors.

In consequence, the move to establish chain stores is regarded as a necessary stroke to bring negro stores to such a high level of efficiency that negro patronage will be compelled. It is not proposed, at first, that entire new stores shall be established in competition with those now in operation. The idea is to get the negroes in certain lines of business in the various cities lined up into a sort of cooperative merger, the whole enterprise operating under the name of the Colored Merchants Association. Ultimately, if the plan succeeds, its designers expect to establish C. M. A. stores in every city where the negro population is at all substantial.

These negro business men have not moved precipitately in the matter. Two notable experiments have been made and are reported to be operating successfully. In Winston-Salem, N. C., 35 negro grocers have gone into the scheme. In Montgomery, Ala., 12 have joined.

The commercial advantage sought is the same advantage sought by the big chain stores operated by white companies; that is, more advantageous buying through ability to purchase large lots. It is calculated that if the Colored Merchants Association can be extended to include thousands of stores, now operating independently, a buying power will be in the hands of the negro merchants which will enable them to undersell independently owned stores of trade, and thus survive. The negro, for the country as a whole, yet remains in the low-wage class and, even against race prejudice, will be attracted by low priced goods which are of a good quality.

The Negro Business league states that the negro spends for groceries each year the colossal sum of $2,200,000,000. Yet, it is estimated, negro merchants are getting but 4 per cent of the trade. Other lines show that $1,400,000,000 a year is spent by negroes for clothing and $500,000,000 for shoes. No $1,500 is given of the amount of business done by the 1,500 dealers in real estate, the 200 technical engineers, 3,400 undertakers, 6,000 physicians and surgeons, 8,000 restaurants, 3,500 barbers and hairdressers, 250 negro hotels, and 100 negro taxicab companies.

Ritzy Rosalie

More and more the "weaker sex" are glad they are weak and give in easily to the dictates of old Sol, instead of being like a certain other sex (not mentioning no names) who pit their strength against the heat, armored in neckties and coats only to suffer, while the "weaker" enjoy real comfort in the adoration of the Sun, God and suntan complexion and styles. Rosalie has one of the late creators which shows that the exposure has extended to the waist in back. This one is a green and white gingham print on heavy cotton. The snake? Well, the reason Rosalie is still in this picture is that the snake is merely an ether of the novelties in fashions! Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Thoughts while strolling: A shop dealing in imported cheese. But nothing beats the old red rat trap variety. A fellow pushing a baby buggy has no trouble crossing the streets. He receives as much consideration from crossing cops as a timid old lady.

They never seem to name a girl any more. Cornell Woolrich, the young novelist. Why do white gloves appear so utterly superfluous? Tap on a dog's collar. "Try to steal me!" That grinning darkey doorman at Reuben's. Short nose veils again. Another tipsy policeman.

Frank Sullivan, a Saratoga Springs, N. Y., boy, who made good in the city. Whatever became of Hal Chase? Young bucks who sit in the windows of Papa's Club trying to look worldly. Gob-pommes for ladies—made like sailor suits. Japanese girls always look as though they just woke up.

A "Tot's Tog Shop." Al Bedell and his famous high collar. Those crisp chauffeurs in dove grey windproof uniforms and deep purple caps—very Mayfairish. All the blue blooded ball room dancers from society families seem to have disappeared. Margaret Livingston bows.

The old Scotland Yard man who used to be chief house detective at the Waldorf. Dan Healey, the actor, who resembles Mayor Walker. Nothing so irritating as pests standing at your table while you try to eat. F. P. Dunne, Jr., son of the old master. And a new dramatic reviewer.

You see the prettiest girls in the home cooking plenty featuring watery soup and leathery pie. And the hardest faced women frequent the expensive cafes. Will Hays window shopping. A woman in a limousine takes a long swing from a silver flash. Maybe it's milk.

Book shops featuring afternoon teas. Most every other girl seems to be letting her hair grow. Hair for uptown is largely to blame. A new hotel with free garage service. Don't hear so much about calories and vitamins. Have they gone out, too? Ring Lardner's No. 118.

It is whispered a practitioner of improvement.

2.—Careful attention to the diet and elimination should bring about results.

3.—You should weigh about 140 pounds.

A.—Treatment should be prescribed by the family doctor. Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Once Over

By J. J. Mundy.

Why Haven't You Succeeded? Perhaps the reason why you have not reached a higher plane of success is that you have never had any great troubles or serious reverses.

Doesn't sound like good logic to you, does it? Undoubtedly you have met with minor defeats the nature of which does not cause you much concern. Not severe enough to call out all your resources to overcome them. You accept rather than try to surmount them—less trouble.

But if you had had some hard jobs you would have had to put forth energy to recover from their effects. Having accomplished such a task you would have been stronger for it.

Accepting little drawbacks as a part of your "luck" is an easy way to avoid effort and very likely this is one of your failings.

Those who make the greatest eventual success very frequently are those who have had the hardest time to get along.

You may think you have had your share of trouble, but in comparison to what others have experienced, haven't your difficulties been rather insignificant?

Instead of accepting defeat so gracefully, why don't you have spunk enough to say "I'll do or die," not literally perhaps, but masterfully.

This is what will bring out the best there is in you. Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in love with a boy. He has some faults that I wish to change and he loves another girl as well as I. I want a method to change his faults and win him. I am seventeen years of age. I would thank you very much for your advice. BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: You can, of course, show by your actions the things you like and admire, and if this young man cares for your opinion he will do the things you like without your asking him to. Also, Blue Eyes, you are unkind and unfair to try to make him give up other girl friends. Neither you nor he can think of love yet, and until you can and he asks you to marry him you have no right to ask him to give up his other friends.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl eighteen years old. I have many boy friends, but do not like any as well as I do a boy whom I met just recently. He brought me home from a party to which I was not escorted. To my delight, he turned out to be my ideal of a boy friend. Sensible, but jolly, educated, etc. He asked when he could call again, but being afraid that he would think I was rather anxious to go with him, I did not answer definitely. I now realize I like the boy very much and would enjoy going with him. But by not giving him my phone number he could not get in touch with me and I know he is too bashful to come over without notifying me.

Tell me how I can show that I would like for him to come? I also know he doesn't go with anyone else, and don't know whether he wants to or not. But how am I to know? PUZZLED.

PUZZLED: Couldn't you invite a few of your friends for a social evening or a bridge and include the young man in your invitations? This would be a dignified way of letting him know you desired to continue the acquaintance.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a boy of eighteen. My trouble is I have freckles on my face. I want to drop stores and used all kinds of creams, but it didn't help. Can you tell me something about freckles, what causes them and what should I do to prevent from getting more?

DIMPLES: Freckles are usually an indication of a very fine skin. Dimples and if I were in your place I wouldn't worry about them a bit. Of course, you'll find that in the summer they are more prominent than in winter. This is on account of the sun. Therefore, take precautions to shield your face from the sun, if you don't want freckles. And simply forget all about them. Don't be self-conscious!

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: Will you please tell me if a wedding ring is supposed to be worn before the engagement ring or after it?

DOUBTFUL: The engagement ring is used as a guard for the wedding ring. Therefore, the wedding ring goes on the finger first, then the engagement ring.

TWO BIG ATTRACTIONS

You'll Love Her In This Picture!

What mysterious hand was behind the murder of "Champ" Tracy, race-track gambler and brute? That was the question that baffled the police. Why did his wife act strangely? Why did the star-reporter drop out of sight so suddenly? These are only a few of the problems that the blonde, beautiful, clever little Sob-sister cleared up—in spite of the fact that her city editor thought she was a dumb-bell, and she saw man after man promoted over her head! And then—she found romance, too... But that's another story. You'll be fascinated and thrilled by Phyllis Haver's remarkable portrayal of a wise young sob-sister who turned the tables on a murderer and found love in doing so!

ALL TALKING MUSICAL REVUE

THIS STORY WAS WRITTEN BY KATHERINE BRUSH, WELL KNOWN AUTHOR, FORMERLY OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

Amusements

MARXMEN SCORE IN "COCOANUTS"

Two leaders in the musical comedy field, Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton, carry the romantic leads in the talking screen's first musical comedy, starring the Marx Brothers, "The Cocoanuts," now at the Ceramic theater.

This pair of artists were seen together in the Broadway musical comedy hit of last season, "The Five O'Clock Girl," and, for several seasons, they were the high spots of Ziegfeld's Follies. Shaw carried the lead two seasons ago in "Oh Kay" and Miss Eaton was the lovely prima donna of "Lucky."

"The Cocoanuts" brings to the screen all the charm and display, all the swift action and convulsing humor of the riotous stage presentation. "The Cocoanuts," with which the Marx Brothers kept New York laughing for more than a year.

The presentation carries on the method of musical comedy for the first time on the screen. If the lovers have a song in mind when they are in conversation, they don't hesitate to sing it. If the chorus feels like interrupting the action with one of their dances, they ski right out.

STAGE STARS ON STATE BILL

A cast of Broadway names that reads like a page from the honor list, feature "Night Club," the Paramount talking picture, on the double bill with Phyllis Haver in "The Office Scandal," at the State theater. Such well known "names" as Pat Rooney and Pat Rooney, Jr., Fannie Brice, Bobbie Arnet, Tamara Geva, Minnie Dupree, Percy Helton, Dorothy Tierney, Betty Lawford, Geoffrey Kerr, Marjot Kelly, Jeanne Greene, Vivienne Osborne, June Walker, Anne Forster and many others are featured in the cast.

"Night Club" is produced from an original story by Katherine Brush, well known author. The author has given an unusual twist to the story of "Night Club," which is packed with human interest. It shows the "Great White Way" in some of its phases in its true light, and is interpreted by an all-star cast.

"NEW ORLEANS" STORY OF TRACK

"New Orleans," the Tiffany-Stahl Reginald Barker special production which opened yesterday at the American theater, is an exceptionally entertaining picture, with a very dramatic plot, a joy mad Mardi Gras carnival, a neck-and-neck horse race with desperate stakes on the outcome, and perfect acting by Ricardo Cortez, William Collier, Jr., and Alma Bennett.

John Francis Natteford has skillfully written his story around the love of two men for each other and of both for a wretched little gold digger. Collier portrays the famous jockey just back from British triumphs and Cortez is his friend, an employee of the racing association. The jockey meets the girl on the night of the Mardi Gras ball, becomes deeply infatuated and, after a whirlwind courtship during which he showers her with luxuries, he proposes marriage.

It is then the girl meets the friend and thinks how nice it would be to have him for her lover and the rich jockey for her husband. The friend fights against her charms but finally succumbs and when the jockey, on his wedding day, learns of their treachery he threatens them both with vengeance.

The friend marries the girl and, some time later, just before the big horse race of the year, the jockey has his chance for revenge. He is to ride the favorite, but he is taken desperately ill before the race and the doctor forbids him to ride. The jockey has learned that his old friend has stolen $5,000 to place on his horse, so that he can satisfy his wife's appetite for luxuries. He knows, too, that his friend has promised to shoot himself if he loses and the wife is already unfaithful to her husband, just as she had been to the jockey!

Which shall it be? Revenge, or sacrifice for the memory of a beautiful friendship? It's a great situation for those who like dramatic intensity with thrilling action.

HEAVY RAIN TODAY BRINGS RELIEF TO OHIO FARMERS

SEPTEMBER'S FIVE HOTTEST DAYS NOTED

Peak of Torrid Wave In 13-day Dry Spell.

CORN HARD HIT

Water Shortage in Youngstown; Drowning in Cleveland.

By International News Service. A heavy rain early today brought much needed relief to Northern Ohio farmers and residents following the five hottest days ever recorded for the month of September.

Sept. 5 was the hottest in 48 years, according to United States weather bureau officials in Cleveland. The mercury climbed to 91 in midafternoon as a climax to a 13-day dry spell.

The dry spell prevails to today's rain, was the worst since the summer of 1910, according to farmers.

Canton agriculture experts look upon the situation in Stark county as serious. Corn there was planted late because of the excessive rains early in the summer. The dry spell has ruined much of the corn crop, it is said.

Youngstown is facing a water shortage which will result in thousands of dollars loss. Steel mills already have suffered heavy losses due to insufficient water supply. The supply from Milton reservoir has been ordered reduced from 120,000,000 gallons a day to 50,000,000. Almost half the water has been taken from the reservoir already.

The 21st drowning of the season in Greater Cleveland occurred yesterday when Gordon Parish, 11, was drowned in a pool near his home while swimming.

Heavy rains at Camp Perry last night where the National Rifle association meet is being held, interrupted the matches there.

New York Heat Wave Broken.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(INS)—A steady rainfall throughout the night and early morning eliminated the intense heat wave that has gripped the metropolis and surrounding vicinity for several days.

Youth Shot, Father Held. NEW LEXINGTON, O., Sept. 6.—(INS)—Accused of shooting with intent to kill Thomas, his 19-year-old son, Marcellus Davis, 59, farmer, is in jail here today. The young man is in a serious condition.

Samuel Kaufman.

Samuel Kaufman, brother of the late Hurt and Charles Kaufman of this city, died in his home in Holton, Kansas, Thursday.

He is survived by his widow and one son, T. L. Kaufman, Columbus, formerly of this city, is a brother. Funeral services will be held in Holton tomorrow. Burial will be made there.

Mrs. Emma Newland.

LISBON, O., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Emma Newland, 73, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, matron at the county jail, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Newland was born in Portland, Ohio, and formerly lived in East Liverpool. She and her husband came to Lisbon last April, after having spent three and one half years in Michigan.

She leaves her husband, D. W. Newland, and two other daughters, Mrs. W. B. Wilson, Canton and Mrs. O. A. Peterson, Muskegon, Mich., and one grandson, Harley Grant, Wellsville. She was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, East Liverpool.

Funeral services will be held in the Barlow home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, in charge of the Rev. Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, East Liverpool. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery, East Liverpool.

Parsnips three feet seven inches long were exhibited at a flower show at Minehead, England, recently.

215 "NEEDLES" RAISE RIVER

Dry Weather Hits Stage; Traffic Tie-up Feared.

Forty "needles" were placed in the weir of the Ohio river Dam No. 8 today by lockmen, boosting the total to 215 to raise the pool. Shoals and sand bars in the upper Ohio river near Pittsburgh are hindering transportation. River men predict that river traffic will halt within a week if the dry weather continues.

Readings at noon today at Dam No. 8 were: 15.3 feet in the upper pool and 8.9 feet in the lower pool.

The Queen City, enroute to Pittsburgh from Cincinnati, and The Liberty, from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, W. Va., will arrive here tonight.

The towboat J. H. Hillman went to Weirton, W. Va., yesterday with six barges of coal. The Monongahela passed here yesterday for Pittsburgh with two empty barges and one barge of spar. The Allegheny and Deacon were enroute to Pittsburgh today.

More than $5,000,000 will be spent in extending the port facilities of Singapore, Straits Settlements.

INES FORMED FOR FIGHT ON TARIFF BILL

Democratic-Insurgent Opposition Drafts Program.

SENATE BATTLE

Administrative Provisions First Objective of Attack.

By William K. Hutchinson, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The opposing lines for a "billion dollar" battle over the tariff were drawn in the senate today with a Democratic-Insurgent coalition definitely lined up in opposition to the administration's new bill.

The Democrats and Insurgents reached an agreement on a program of assault. The high point of this program is a decision to assail the administrative provisions first, leaving the battle over rates for the grand climax.

This method of procedure was entirely acceptable to administration leaders.

Smoot Sees Victory. "We have no objection whatever to debating administrative provisions prior to action on the rates," said Senator Smoot (R.) of Utah, senatorial parent of the bill. "When the senate does reach the rates, we have no doubt of the outcome. The bill, as reported, will be accepted generally and I hope it will become a law at the special session."

The Democratic-Insurgent program, includes the following steps: 1. Temporary abandonment of the Thomas proposal for an immediate fight to eliminate all industrial increases from the bill.

2. Launching of fight against administrative features. 3. United opposition to the flexible tariff provision, under which the president can raise or lower rates on recommendations from the tariff commission.

Oppose Reed Provision. 4. Support for amendments, limiting the commission's activities to that of an advisory agency to congress.

5. United opposition to the Reed provision, authorizing conversion of new rates from a foreign to a domestic valuation basis. 6. Lengthy debate afterwards of all industrial schedules, with possible battle then for elimination of industrial increases.

7. Certain attacks on a dozen or more important industrial rates, which were increased by senate committee.

8. United support for the higher agricultural rates, approved by senate committee, with possible battle for further increases in some farm product rates.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

By W. S. Cousins, International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Wall street pulled itself together and put an end to panicky selling of stocks as the going sounded for the beginning of another day's trading on the big board today. The bears who hoped for another "killing" were surprised to see the active stocks soar from 3 to 8 points as the first blocks of industrial shares went over from seller to buyer, and the word was passed around the "street" that the investment trusts and powerful bankers were solidly behind their favorites.

Opening gains of 3 to 8 points were stretched a point or two as traders on the "bull side" jumped in to buy their favorites. Loose Wiles Biscuit, which jumped more than 8 points to 84 on sale of only 5,000 shares. Radio was whipped back to 106 for a 3-point gain and International Telephone and Telegraph easily recovered 6 points.

American waterworks and Standard Gas, which have been linked together in persistent merger rumor lost no time in resuming their sensational upward move. Waterworks jumped about 8 points to 181 and Standard Gas 10 points to the same price, strengthening the forecasts of a share-for-share merger of the two powerful companies. American and foreign power started the day 5 points higher and

"Mr. Babson has been bearish on the market for three years," Wollman said. "Some day he may be right, for stocks cannot go up indefinitely. Today he appears to be wrong."

Wollman added that never in the history of Wall Street have margin accounts been in such strong condition, and the market in such strong hands, as they are today. He explained that this was the reason for the firmness of the market today, following yesterday's nerve-racking break.

Come and See how TONTINE window shades can really be washed . . .

Interesting Demonstration Saturday Sept.

HERE'S your chance. Come to our store. See this test of Tontine, made by du Pont—a shade that's lovely, tasteful, yet one that can actually be washed.

This Tontine shade will be demonstrated right in our store on the date mentioned above—be sure and come—you'll find it interesting.

You'll see this Tontine shade soiled with dust and dirt—then quickly scrubbed clean again, just using ordinary soap, hot water and a brush. It's so easy to remove at season's end the dust and finger-marks of service.

TONTINE
WINDOW SHADE

CROOK'S
EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO

Impregnated with pyroxylin (the same basic material as DUCO), not filled with starch or paint—it cannot crack or "pinhole" and being waterproof it can easily be washed. Rain and storms can't harm it.

But come and see for yourself—you'll be positively fascinated at this wonder shade that science has created—you'll want it in your house, for you'll realize that with Tontine, costly replacement is unnecessary for years and years and years. Just note the date and time above, and see our demonstration. You'll like it. COME.

COAST SALAD WAR CONTINUES

LOS ANGELES—People who do their eating with a view to enjoying same and not just to live, are sitting as judges here in a salad war.

L. E. Behymer, noted musical impressionist, has discovered and puts forth a salad composed of equal parts of Bermuda onion and bananas. This combination, he says with sundry lip-smacks, produces an entirely new flavor.

A previously "invented" salad of onion and orange was brought forward to compete with the "Lost Chord" of Impresario Behymer, and so the controversy rages.

SERIES RIVALS TO BATTLE AGAIN TOMORROW

Chester Nine One-Up On Pottery Clubbers

Saturday Tilt Scheduled for 4 p. m., at Smith Field; Wyant and O'Brosky May Be Pitchers.

WITH Chester one up on the Katics as a result of their 2-1 triumph Wednesday night, the second game of the Inter City League championship series between the West Virginians and the Ohio Pottery will be staged tomorrow afternoon at Smith Field, Chester, beginning at 4 o'clock.

The Chester squad, naturally, has the big edge as a result of its initial victory. And if the Katics should drop another one, the Pottery will have a tough, uphill fight on their hands to win the pennant.

The pitching selections for tomorrow's battle were undetermined today. Manager Les McMath of Chester probably will send Percy Wyant against the locals in the event that Wyant can be excused from his daily chores in time to reach the battle scene. If Wyant doesn't start, then it will be Earl Springer again who gave the Katics five hits in winning the first game.

Jack O'Brosky no doubt would be Manager Jack Orr's choice for the second tilt but O'Brosky finds himself in somewhat the same situation as Wyant.

So it's entirely possible that Stoffell and Springer may be on the firing line again. Both of these hurlers turned in fine slab performances in the first game and each was given almost faultless support by the defense forces.

It was Mike Cebula's timely three base hit which came with two runners on the paths in the sixth and last inning that decided the issue.

Both teams were tightened up for the fray and the same tension exists as they prepare for their second combat. This fact was plainly evident in the fielding of the two clubs Wednesday, spectacular stops and throws bringing frequent rounds of applause from

Doubles Give Fans Big Kick

Its Bargain Day Time In National League.

By Henry McLemore.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 6.—These are bargain days in the National League.

It's reached the point where it's a case of a double header or no count.

Today offers but two—Brooklyn at Pittsburgh and Chicago at St. Louis—due no doubt to the fact that only four clubs are scheduled.

In the first of these Chicago will doubtless go gaily about adding to their already impressive lead in the league race by stacking the hapless Cards. The other will see Babe Herman, elongated Robin outfielder, strive his utmost to outwit Pirate fingers and thus put something more substantial than a few decimal points between his batting average and that of Lefty O'Doul, pride and joy of the Philadelphia Phillies.

With Brooklyn waging a desperate fight to move into fourth place Herman is probably the only member of the Robins glad to be in Pittsburgh. Herman's pleasure is simply explained. It was in the west that he compiled the greater part of his 1928 batting average.

Yesterday was a moist one in the National with the majority of the demands resembling nothing so much as trysting places for amorous duets. Only Pittsburgh in Cincinnati found a dry field.

The Pirates took advantage of this to further shatter the jinx Red Lucas once held over them by chasing him from the mound and winning, 10 to 5. Brame, in addition, to turning in a winning game, led the Bucs at bat with three hits, one a homer.

In the American things were little better. Of the two games booked, only Cleveland and Detroit found things dry enough for baseball and they were forced to call the game in the middle of the sixth inning. Ken Holloway, former Tiger, turned on his old team-mates, held them to two hits, and the Indians won as they pleased, 4 to 0.

The Yankees spent the day up at Sing Sing where they defeated a mutual welfare league nine, 17 to 3. Babe Ruth, center of attraction as usual, delighted the boys by propelling three prodigious homers.

MEYER RENAMED SAINTS' COACH

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 6.—Appointment of Joseph A. Meyer as physical education and athletic director of St. Xavier college for three more years was announced yesterday by the Rev. Hubert F. Brockman, S. J., college president.

Father Brockman personally complimented Meyer upon the Mus-peteer mentor's work during his nine-year stay at St. Xavier.

Father Brockman also announced the appointment of E. E. "Rip" Miller, former University of Notre Dame star tackle, as one of Meyer's football assistants. St. Xavier's 1929 season starts September 28 when Transylvania college plays here.

Meyer was graduated from Notre Dame university in 1919 where he studied architecture. He came to St. Xavier in 1920 and from the first day of his directorship of the athletic and physical education program the college has made vast forward strides.

Records of the St. Xavier teams show that during the past three years approximately eighty-five per cent of the football games played have been won. Because of Meyer's clean-cut policy St. Xavier athletic teams are favorably known in all parts of the country.

Truth is stranger than fiction in Meyer's case as he has never played a football game in his life.

All his knowledge of the game has been gained through the power of observation.

Zook Aid Approved By Board

Dixon Drills Backs In Preliminary Work.

THOMAS DIXON, formerly of North Braddock, Pa., was formally selected as assistant to Coach Earl Zook, director of high school athletic activities, at last night's meeting of the board of education.

Dixon is a former Susquehanna athlete and has already been working along with Zook in preliminary gridiron activities here.

He will instruct gymnasium classes and have charge of the study periods. Zook, while not describing to his gridiron charges the proper slant of a piskin punt and tackle buck, will be giving his classes at the high school some stiff workouts in algebraic puzzles.

Zook is making preparations to reduce his large squad to workable proportions.

More than 100 youngsters, this number in itself indicating a revival of interest in the grid sport, have been reporting for drills. The squad will be reduced probably to 65 or 70 in the near future and most of these will be retained probably for a month or so.

Dixon has been working with the backfield candidates the last few days while Zook has been giving the line considerable attention.

A strong forward wall, with plenty of beef, brains and agility will be his goal and with Saul McCoy, Captain Fred Althar, Dick Dalrymple, Mary Wooley, Harry McConville and other veterans as a nucleus he expects to have an effective septet on the front line.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 6.—The Cleveland Boxing commission yesterday decided to pay Johnny Risko and K. O. Christner their purses for their fight at public hall Wednesday night.

Risko lost in the ninth round on a foul.

Risko will be fined, but the amount of the penalty will not be determined until next week when the commission meets again. The fine will then be turned over to the community fund.

St. Paul, in second place, continued its winning spurt to overhaul Kansas City which is leading the American association teams on the road to pennantville, when it took the first game of a double-header by the score of 7 to 4, but it was a short lived one for the Blues broke out in a rash of base hitting in the nightcap to swat the Saints by a 15 to 6 count.

Minneapolis and Milwaukee indulged in a slugfest all their own, neither gaining the advantage as they split a twin bill. The Millers lapped around to take the first game, 13 to 10, and dropped the second game to the Brewers to the tune of 12 to 9.

Columbus evened up its series when it defeated Indianapolis, 5 to 2. Thus, the Senators and Indians are where they started before their setto, deadlocked for the berth of fourth place in the first division. Looks like the other teams will have to step in and show them their places.

Louisville and Toledo did not get to play, as rain was the master of ceremony.

Newell Service Can Clinch Softball Pennant Tonight

Must Trim Golden Flowers; Loss Will Tie up Race Again.

The Recreation league race for second half honors is yet undecided. Unlike the major leagues, the softball artists must play the string clear out before the winner is determined.

Newell can grab the flag by defeating Golden Flowers tonight, as Anderson Coal was knocked off by Carnahan Drugs last night.

A defeat at the hands of the Florists will tie Newell again with the Coal Heavers. Then, Johnnies Drugs has a tie game with the Y. M. C. A. to play and a win for the Drugs would put them on even terms with the other two contenders.

Lots of possibilities—but the West Virginia Cassers can end it all by winning tonight.

The present race is the closest ever held in the three years of local softball.

Petrosky Hurls Second Win In Midland Series

Service Nine Cops, 6-1, and Takes Lead in Crucible Steel League Pennant Clash; Need One More to Grab Flag.

MIDLAND, Pa., Sept. 6.—Behind the masterly pitching of Petrosky, in his second appearance on the slab in the present championship series, the Servers combed the Open Hearts for an even half dozen runs and took another step toward the title by winning last night's game, 6 to 1.

Petrosky beat the Hearts in the first game of the series and now has two to his credit. Rubie Phillips, who beat the Servers in the second game of the series, tried a comeback last night but was chased in the fifth. Jack O'Brosky finished and didn't permit a hit nor a run in the three frames he worked.

Petrosky hurled 11 scoreless innings, including 11s first game and the second.

Three runs the Servers made in the third were sufficient to win. Phillips' wildness forced in the first run and Andres' single drove in two more. Three more runs were made by the Servers in the next inning while a belated Open Heath rally in the sixth netted them a single tally and prevented a shutout.

The fielding of Andres and Rudd of the Servers and Balquist of the Hearts featured the defensive side of the game.

If the Servers win tonight, the series is over.

CONNIE CONFIDENT

Quimet and Egan Survive

Former Champ in Semi-final of Amateur Play.

By Davis J. Walsh.

PEBBLE BEACH, DEL MONTE, Calif., Sept. 6.—Two men who were champions and two who are willing to be left all alone, the remnant of a once great field of 140, when the semi-final round of the National Amateur Golf championship was called to a point of order this morning.

The two ex-champions, human vintage of other and better days, Francis Quimet and H. Chandler Egan, were on opposite sides of the semi-final bracket, and an emotional populace was hoping that fate would decree that they live to meet in the final round tomorrow.

This was reckoned to be the only circumstance that would save the final round for the emotionists, still very much dashed over the fact that a man by the name of Jones had left the tournament flat and I don't mean convex.

So much for emotionalism. Now for facts. Egan, old enough to be somebody's grandfather, will meet Dr. O. F. Willing, that grim, sour figure from the northwest, in one of the 26-hole matches. In the other, Quimet, his face lined with fatigue, will play Harrison Jimmy Johnston, young, likeable and bristling with health. If this quartet was "handicapped" on its shot-making, Quimet probably would be placed No. 1 in the ranking list and Egan at No. 2, and all too probably, they are destined to be the two losers.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 6.—The Pittsburgh Pirates completed their solution of the mystery of Red Lucas yesterday by hammering the Cincinnati pitcher from the mound and winning their last game of the season in Cincinnati, 10 to 5.

The victory following one scored last Sunday, completely shattered the spell Lucas has held over the Pirates since June, 1927. Ervin Brame, Pittsburgh moundsman, started a seven-run rally in the third inning by bouncing a home run into the right field bleachers.

Lucas lasted through this storm but gave way to Jackie May in the fourth when Lloyd Waner smashed a triple with one on base.

May checked the Pirate batting although Pittsburgh scored single runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Brame and L. Waner led the slugging attack, the former with a double and a single in addition to his homer and Waner with a pair of triples and a single.

The Reds started by hammering Brame for four hits and three runs in the first inning, but did not score again until the ninth when an error, followed by a triple by pinch hitter Walker, paved the way for two runs.

DARTMOUTH HAS 20 WINGMEN

HANOVER, N. H.—Coach Jackson Cannell will send his 75 Dartmouth football candidates through their second double drill today.

The squad this year contains more candidates for end berths than any other position. Twenty wingmen are working out daily and their battle for the two positions promises to provide a merry fight.

PENN GRIDMEN WORK SIGNALS

CAPE MAY, N. J.—With the squad divided into teams A, B and C, Lou Young's Penn gridmen were scheduled today to spend the majority of their time in signal drills.

Buckeye Program Varied

Big Batch of Athletes To Be Busy in Many Branches.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—In addition to a varied menu of football that calls for six varsity and one reserve game at home, other fall sports at Ohio State will have their "day" during the autumn months.

Cross-country, soccer and even basketball that is usually associated with winter pastimes, will all get under way when the university opens the fall quarter in October. In soccer where Harry P. Castle, of Manchester, England, is to resign as coach, only two men will be lost out of the 16 who achieved awards last fall. These are Francis Pierce and Albion Allen who completed their athletic careers in June. The Buck squad, although champions in '27, started last season with an inexperienced lineup. Performance this season should be better than in the past.

Two games have been scheduled with Illinois, while there is a possibility that contact will be made with Penn State. At least six games, most of them at home, will be on the books when the season opens.

In cross-country, Coach Frank Castleman, will have the unenviable task of working with green material. Of the six men who gained second place in the Big Ten meet for Ohio State last season, only one, Harold Woehle, of Toledo, will be available for the 1929 campaign. Dr. Castleman has had his team "in the money" in every Conference cross-country meet in which they have been entered in the past so the present situation is not completely hopeless.

Ohio State will again compete against Illinois and Michigan in their annual triangular race this fall, while dual affairs have been proposed with Indiana and Pittsburgh. The Big Ten meet comes here this year.

In basketball, fall practice has been called by Coach H. G. Olsen to start around October 10. Ohio State will again be handicapped by lack of a tall center, although the remaining departments are fairly well fortified. George Van Heyde, who jumped center last year is the only man lost to the squad through graduation, and the only likely looking candidate for his job is Ed Weaver who held down this position on the frosh team last winter.

With Wesley Fesler, Richard Larkins and Bill Hinchman, all out for football, Olsen will start his build up campaign with four veterans.—Jack Evans, Harold Crin, Robert Fittel and David Morrison. Freshmen of last season who appear to have varsity prospects are Wilbur Such, Floyd Bayes and G. W. Threlkeld, forwards, and Stewart Holcomb and James Hauser, guards.

PROTEST SLAG ON ROAD JOB

Motorists Complain on Columbiana-Lisbon Work.

LISBON, O., Sept. 6.—Protest has been filed against the state highway department awarding a contract to Ray Strausser of Aurora to place coarse slag on the recently graded section of the Lisbon-Columbiana road. Rough slag from the Leetonia furnace is being trucked to the job.

It is contended that, as a result of placing the rough slag on this road, motorists will be refused to travel the highway, but will use road between Lisbon and Columbiana through Leetonia.

It was the opinion of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk and other road officials that the state highway department would use a finer grade of slag on this job.

Division Engineer D. W. Liggett, of Ravenna, State Highway Superintendent W. C. Neft and Surveyor Kirk inspected the road Saturday.

Columbiana

The Class of 1929 of Columbiana High school held its first reunion Friday night at Mill Creek Park, Youngstown, about 60 members and guests being present at the serving of the covered dinner at seven o'clock. The class President, Russell Tyson, was re-elected and Kathryn Morlan was appointed secretary-treasurer. It was decided to hold these reunions annually. Following the dinner and business meeting, the evening was spent in dancing and other amusements. Among the guests were the class sponsor, Miss Garnet Gooley, Principal and Mrs. Edgar F. Miller, and Miss Lois Switzer, the latter the class sponsor during its freshman year.

Plans are practically complete for the annual Columbiana Street Fair to be held Friday and Saturday, September 20 and 21, under the sponsorship of Benjamin Firestone Post, American Legion, Post Commander Homer C. Culp will serve as general manager and will also have charge of the concessions. Russell Beck is chairman of the premium committee, H. M. Hoover of the street committee, Thomas Harold of the traffic, Ray Fisher the publicity, and Raymond Gleckler has charge of the special prizes, which include a Ford sedan, an R. C. A. radio and two Firestone tires. Members of the Ladies' auxiliary of the post will give away a cedar chest, filled with useful articles. The newly reorganized Columbiana band will furnish music and the other attractions will be about as usual. The exhibits will again be housed in a large tent and will be under guard until 4 p. m. on Saturday.

At the recent state convention of the American Legion, to which Post Commander Homer C. Culp was a delegate, Benjamin Firestone Post was awarded a blue ribbon for showing more than a 25 per cent increase in membership over the 1928 membership.

A reunion of the Miller family was held at Allegheny Park, Pa., on Thursday evening, a corn and wiener roast being the main diversion. Those present from Columbiana included: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Haggerty and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hoover, in company with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hoover and family of Youngstown, spent the weekend camping at Euclid Beach Park, Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tidd and daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barrow and son, John, have returned home from a ten-day motor tour through New York, New Jersey and other eastern states.

Mrs. W. Roy Guy will entertain members of the Young Ladies' Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school Wednesday evening at her home on South Elm street. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barrow, in company with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Koch, and daughter, Helen of New Waterford, left Saturday on a motor trip through the east.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. William Miller and son, Jack spent the week-end camping near Bedford, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hoover and C. J. Hoover of Columbus were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simpson and family, Union street. Miss Lois Maurer expects to enter the nurses' training school of the Youngstown City hospital about September 5th.

Robert Esterly has returned to his duties at Holloways' store after a vacation of two weeks.

Over Terrific Neuritis Pains

Mr. A. B. Pritchett Tells of His Remarkable Recovery from Two Years' Siege of Neuritis, Which Racked His Body Night and Day With Terrible, Knife-Like Pains—Says 5 Bottles ORANGE ROOT Did It.

Mr. A. B. Pritchett, of New Cumberland, near East Liverpool, O., is so grateful for the benefits received through the use of "ORANGE ROOT" Iron and Celery Compound that he voluntarily sends in this message that other sufferers as he did might heed it and gain relief from their awful miseries. He says: "For the past 2 years I have suffered untold misery with neuritis, which was robbing me of all vitality. My body was so filled with aches and pains that I was in constant misery all the time. Terrible knife-like pains would shoot through my hips and limbs which prevented me from walking at times, and then when I did walk, it was with great difficulty. I tried all the medicines I heard of and was treated by many specialists, but nothing seemed to reach the seat of the trouble. This suffering continued for 2 years till my body became so weak and rundown

FOUR CARRIED TO SAFETY AS OTHERS FLEE

Smoke Pours Through Stairways Into 190 Suites.

MASKS USED

Telephone Operator Warns Occupants Of Building.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Three hundred persons were routed from the fashionable Commodore apartments on the East Side here early today when fire, believed to have broken out in the laundry in the basement, threatened to sweep the entire apartment building.

The flames were confined to the basement, but heavy smoke rolled upward through stairways and elevator shafts into every one of the 190 suites.

Four persons were carried to safety by firemen and the others made their escape orderly, scantily clad in pajamas and bathrobes.

Four emergency police squads were called out to preserve order. Three Taken to Hospital.

Mrs. W. B. Fish was trapped on the eleventh floor when she was overcome by smoke. She was rescued by firemen and taken to Mt. Slant hospital.

Beil Marcosson, another guest at the apartment hotel, and two firemen were also overcome by smoke and taken to Mt. Santa hospital. It is believed their condition is not serious.

Sam Friedman, an invalid, was carried down a ladder by police from the second floor. Many of the occupants, groping through the heavy fumes, grabbed emergency gas masks and made their escape. One policeman found three women nearly overcome on the eleventh floor. All were carried to safety. Another fireman was found exhausted in the basement some time after the fire had been under way. Fellow fire fighters succeeded in lifting him from the flaming basement without serious injury.

Miss Gertrude Fuller, day telephone operator, is being hailed as the heroine of the near-tragedy and the heroine of the near-tragedy and is greatly responsible for the safe escape of the night clerk of the hotel, who first discovered the smoke. With the dense smoke choking and blinding her, the girl sat at the telephone board and called every one of the suites.

It is not known how much damage was done to the large apartment, but is expected to reach thousands of dollars when a final estimate is made by fire officials.

Finds Owa-Ton-Na A Remedy of Real Merit

After Twenty Years Suffering Local Resident Finds Relief Through the Use of This Fine Old Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na.

"After suffering more or less continually for the past 20 years, I at last found relief through the use of this fine old Indian Remedy, Owa-Ton-Na," says Mrs. Sara Spahr, 1167 Erie street, East Liverpool, Ohio. "My bowels" now function normally, food doesn't disagree with me and it certainly is a relief to be rid of those terrible gas and bloating spells. I go to bed at night and get a good night's sleep, my energy has returned. Backaches and kidney disorders are gone and I certainly feel thankful for this great remedy, Owa-Ton-Na. I sincerely hope that other sufferers will benefit from my experience and I feel satisfied that if Owa-Ton-Na is given a fair trial, it will do the work."

What Mrs. Spahr has said about the results which Owa-Ton-Na brings, has been duplicated by hundreds of other women and men all over the country. Before taking Owa-Ton-Na some of these folks complained of backaches, sick stomach, indigestion and bad breath. Others found their greatest cause of complaint in their appearance—pimples and boils, pale scrawny cheeks, tired-looking face, dull eyes.

Let today be the start of a new life for you. Call at Carnahan's store.—Adv.

"BIG GAME"

Story of a girl who thought love more powerful than society.

By Vida Hurst

With a caution born of despair, she asked, "What do you mean, Dan? Do you think he'll take your word for anything?" "He'll take the evidence of his own eyes," Dan said, calmly. "You see, I drove up as he was driving away."

"Oh, Dan, you didn't! You wouldn't do that!" "My dear, it wasn't my fault. I didn't know he was here. I'm the one who ought to feel insulted."

"You know I told you not come. You never done this before."

"Does it mean so much to you?" "It means everything to me. If you have one atom of chivalry you'll explain to him."

She was too excited to realize how she was showing her hand. Let Dan think what he liked. This should not happen to her. She would not let it happen.

But now he was staring at her with all the smoldering vanity of the dispossessed male.

"So it's been Bruce all the time?" "I didn't say so."

"That's what you meant when you said you couldn't get him out of your heart?"

"Dan, you will do this for me, won't you? I'll ring him up now."

"Go ahead. But without any assistance from me. If he's really in love with you he'll be willing to take your word for it."

"You don't understand how many things have happened to make him doubt me."

"No one in the world could make me believe anything against you, Mona. If they did it would not matter."

He flung himself down beside her as Bruce had done such a short time before, clasping his hand about her knees, pleading, "Don't you care what you're doing to me?"

"Oh, don't! Please!"

"What does Bruce Berion know about love if for any reason he doubts you? He has been with you all evening, but I asked no questions. I make no demands."

She was not even listening to him. Conscious only of a suffocating, increasingly sinister fear.

When he murmured, "I'm sorry if I've made you unhappy. I'd bet if you go," she answered, "Yes, go!"

But before he left he said, "Even if I did try to explain he wouldn't listen to me."

"You could try," she insisted. "Well, I shan't do it. I'm not going to help you make a fool of yourself."

The moment he was gone Mona flew to the telephone waiting in vain for the operator to inform her that she was ringing them, but there was no answer.

All morning Mona waited for Bruce to call. Waited with a pulse hammering in her throat and increasingly nervous hands.

Even before she was out of bed she was hoping the telephone would ring. Reminding herself that she would smile about this after they were married.

Dan had been right. If Bruce loved her he would not permit a misunderstanding of any kind to stand in his way. He did love her.

She could have no doubt of that after last night. Then why the cold, unreasoning, premeditation that he was NOT going to call?

She attempted to be philosophical. It was early. Bruce did not wish to disturb her. She would bathe and dress. The surest way not to get something was to fold your hands and wait for it.

As she closed the window and stared down into the sunny garden she was thinking, "I should be gloriously happy."

Instinct was stronger than reasoning, yet the moment the telephone rang she was up from the breakfast table, crying, "I'll answer."

"Good morning," she sang, but it was Dan who replied, "Mona, I'm awfully sorry about last night."

Frantic with disappointment and impatience she cried, "I can't talk to you now."

Supposing Bruce had been trying to get her at the very moment she was talking to the other man? Supposing the operator had cut in on them and Bruce had heard Dan apologizing?

She returned to the table to swallow a cup of black coffee. If only she might go for a ride but she dared not leave the house because if he did call she must be there.

"I'll call you early in the morning," Bruce had promised.

It was after 10 o'clock now. Oh, but so many things might have delayed him. Unexpected business, an official from out of town, or perhaps the baby was ill. She would telephone Ruth and ask.

Ruth replied with customary enthusiasm that the baby was fine. She was going down town to buy a new hood for her. The one Mabel had was already too small.

Details followed. Daphne's weight, a proposed change in food, etc. Long before the monolog ended, Mona had ceased to listen.

Ruth was such a bore. Mona told herself that no matter how much she loved a baby she would never let the routine of its precious life become her sole topic of conversation.

By noon she was pacing the floor. The telephone had rung no less than eight times. Sending her each time thru the same agony of hope, suspense, and courage-sapping realization that it was NOT Bruce.

She told herself that her first intuition had been correct. He had no intention of calling her. And she would not call him. Not if she never saw him again.

But at 1 o'clock, feeling "less than the dust" she was being informed that Mr. Berion was out to lunch.

She refused to leave her number, deciding now that she would play his game. With a silence equally baffling.

Reinforcing her courage with lipstick and rouge she drove to the hospital.

Her father was improving, and Mona did not return until late in the afternoon. But in response to her eager question Ellen replied that there had been no calls.

At 5 Mona threw pride to the winds and went to the Morehouse home.

It was the baby's bedtime and Ruth, charmingly maternal, would be putting her to bed. But he had admitted it was Mona, not Ruth he wanted.

Nothing—no one in the world could keep him from her now.

Recklessly she parked her car beside his and ran inside. Calling with forced gaiety, "Hello! Where's everybody?"

To be met by Ruth, finger to her lips, "Be quiet, Mona. The baby's asleep."

Bruce was smoking in the upstairs living room. Mrs. Morehouse was busy with her never finished daintily colored knitting. The picture was one of cheerful domesticity, unless one saw as Mona did that Bruce's fingers were twitching. He rose to go.

"It's you I came to see," Mona said to him, boldly.

He followed her down the stairs into the fading sunlight but his face was as if chiseled in stone.

"I can explain everything Bruce if you will listen."

"There is nothing I wish to have explained," he said.

"Oh, but, darling, I didn't know Dan was coming. You heard me refuse to see him."

With a blaze of anger, Bruce cried, "So you're admitting today that it was Dan who called?"

"I didn't want to tell you last night because you were already so unreasonably suspicious."

"Does it matter why you deceived me, Mona? One reason this time. Another the next..."

"Won't you trust me, please? This once?"

The face he turned to her was vivid.

"Sorry, but I can't. I'd never know a moment's peace again."

Bruce opened the door of Mona's car and waited for her to enter. Her eyes beseeched him to be merciful, but he did not weaken.

When she was seated he said, "I waited half an hour, he continued, "then I decided it no longer mattered."

"He only stayed a few minutes after that," she faltered. "I tried to call you as soon as he had gone, but no one answered."

"I didn't go home," Bruce explained, shortly.

"I suppose," he added, "that I should thank Heaven because I found it out in time, but last night death itself seemed easier."

Thru a blur of tears she cried, "Oh, don't say that! Don't be cruel to me!"

"It would be cruel to marry you feeling as I do now," he said.

He turned away, releasing her. Why didn't she go? Her foot pressed the starter weakly, but all the blood in her veins seemed turned to water.

He loved her more than he had ever loved anyone, yet he was sending her away. Driving her with the flaming sword of his wrath from the paradise their love had created. She had been too generous. If she had been narrow-minded and conventional like Ruth, he would have trusted her.

EAST END*AID SOCIETY YEAR CLOSES

Nine members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church attended the last business session of the conference year last night at the home of Mrs. James Clutter, Michigan avenue. Mrs. Harry Clutter assisted the hostess to serve refreshments.

REV. DR. DEAN WILL GO TO PRESBYTERY

Historic Island Creek Church is Place.

129 YEARS OLD

Knoxville House of Worship Pioneer in Presbyterianism.

The Rev. Dr. F. A. Dean, of the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, will be among East Liverpool pastors who will attend the fall session of the Steubenville presbytery which will open in the 129-year-old Island Creek church, near Knoxville, on Monday.

Island Creek pioneered Presbyterianism in this section of the Ohio valley in the years immediately following the Revolutionary war and after the settlement of the Northwest territory.

After the Indians had been defeated by Gen. "Mad Anthony" Wayne, the territory was made safe for settlers. Almost immediately thereafter the pioneers organized this Presbyterian church and called it Island Creek because of the stream of the same name in its proximity.

Historic Background. Members of the congregation, in anticipation of the forthcoming meeting of next week have for several days been engaged in repaving and painting the interior of the church. The pastor is the Rev. James Clark.

Situated upon a high hill with the main highway directly in front of it, the church has a cemetery about it and across the road is another burial ground.

Persons who served in all of the American wars are buried in this cemetery.

Among those interred there are the maternal grandfather of Lee C. Cooper, of this city, W. T. Cole, who succumbed at the age of 50 while living not far from the Tar-burner school in Jefferson county.

The latter had two sons buried there, both of whom were Mr. Cooper's uncles. One is William Thomas Cole, died in 1850 at the age of 19 and the other, a lad of about 12, was the victim of an accident while attending school.

Hunters Settled District. Hunters originally settled the Island Creek locality. Two of the earliest noted were Ephraim Cooper and William Campbell, who were daring enough to settle near the location of this church in 1755.

Virginians and Pennsylvanians of Scotch-Irish ancestry and Germans from Bowling Green were among those who initially made up the persons who formed the church.

The Rev. John Clane is held by some to have been the first person to preach in the immediate locality. Others think that the Rev. George Scott did so in 1798, the year in which East Liverpool was settled by Thomas Fawcett. The Rev. Mr. Scott was then on a missionary tour and had preached in the "Flats," now Pughtown, W. Va.

Others held that the Rev. Thomas Hughes, of Lisbon, and who preached for years in Calcutta, did so while on a missionary journey among the Indians. The Rev. John McMillan was known to have been in the county in 1798 and he may have done the first preaching there.

Mentioned in 1793 Minutes. The first mention of the church that is recorded is in the minutes of the Virginia synod which declared the Island Creek church was one in 1799 that "was unable to support a pastor." The first known burial in the cemetery occurred also that year, but there is a tradition that a burial was made earlier than that under a walnut tree east of the church.

Initially meetings were held in the northwest corner of the old graveyard under a large tent. In the winter meetings were held in homes. On Oct. 21, 1890, the church became allied with the Steubenville church and the Rev. John Snodgrass was called as pastor and given a salary of $267 annually so that "he might be free from worldly cares." It was stipulated that half of the above sum should be paid in grain at the market prices prevailing.

The first church on the spot was built of logs. This round log and tent affair served until 1810 when one was erected of hewn logs. This one had a walnut pulpit and sounding board above it. The membership in 1807 was 92 and 105 in 1810.

Rev. Snodgrass' Pastorate. In 1818 the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass became pastor of the Island Creek church alone at a salary of $500. He remained with the congregation until 1825. He used to walk to the services each Sunday with a Bible under his arm, followed by his children. When the members were in session to give the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass his formal dismissal the building took fire and burned to the ground. He accordingly told them in his final sermon, "I found you in the woods and am leaving you in the woods."

The same year a brick structure was erected upon the spot. In a short time the Rev. John C. Tidball, a scholarly man, became the pastor at $400 a year. He was a teacher also and an intellectual giant. He carried on an academy in his parsonage. In 1835 he went to Richmond, Jefferson county, and inaugurated the famous academy that flourished there for many years.

On December 14, 1858 a storm of wind and rain blew in a section of the church, making it unfit for use. In 1858 another brick structure was erected.

Notable Ministers Serve. From this church the Sloan Memorial church, of Pleasant Presbyterian Hill was organized from it.

During its long existence it has had notable ministers that have included the Rev. Thomas J. Magill, John K. Cunningham, Michael Angelo Parkinson, William Rea Vincent, Homer Sheeley, J. P. Leyenberg, Thomas W. Hine, William P. Russell and J. Morris. The Rev. Mr. Clark has been the pastor of the church since Sept. 21, 1924.

The church has celebrated its hundredth and hundred and twenty-fifth anniversaries besides those of seventy-five, fifty and twenty-five years.

The congregation was especially faithful to the Union cause during the Civil war. Those knowing its history aver of it that "it has for more than a century and a quarter in the past lighted the way for Christian sailors" and the hope is expressed by them that it will in the future "continue a beacon light for all time."

PENNSY SPAN JOB RUSHED

Bridge Over Carpenter Run Here is Cretosoted.

A coating of creosote has just been given the recently completed addition to the Pennsylvania railroad bridge over Carpenter's run, just west of the Golding Flint Mill. The structure will be covered with earth preliminary to the erection of additional tracks over it.

A wing will be added to the stone section of the span which formed the original support for the tracks. Work on it will begin within a few days.

In the meantime preparations for the necessary filling along the right of way goes on.

Quantities of recently creosoted railway ties have been brought to sections of track in proximity to the bridge.

1 "CUP-TEST" this Coffee so it will delight your palate

I'M not an ad-writer—
I'M a cup-tester of coffee.

BUT they've asked me
TO tell you

HOW I "cup-test"
EVERY shipment of raw coffee

THAT has an ambition
TO become Old Reliable Coffee

SO—though it may be hard
HERE goes:

EVERY time a shipment of raw
coffee
COMES off the boat

I TAKE a scoopful out of every lot
BEFORE it is blended.

I ROAST it. I grind it. I brew it.
I POUR it into a cup and test it.

IF it's perfect, I say:
"IT'S good enough to blend for Old Reliable."

THEN after it is blended
WITH other varieties of raw
coffee—

I TAKE another sample—
And roast it—
And grind it—
And brew it—
And Cup-Test it again.

AND if it's still perfect, I say:

"IT'S good enough to try to BE Old Reliable."

THEN, after the blend is roasted—
I CUP-test it again.

AND if it's still perfect, I say:
"BY Gosh! It IS Old Reliable."

And then it is ground
AND packed in the famous
Old Reliable moisture proof
TRIPLE seal package.

AND shipped to the leading grocers
IN Ohio and Indiana

SO that you can get it today
AND, tomorrow morning—

YOU can drink the most delicious
CUP of coffee you ever tasted—

THAT'S what my CUP-
TESTING
DOES for Old Reliable Coffee.

YOU see—
CUP-testing is really "experimenting."

I EXPERIMENT with Old
Reliable
Three times!
BEFORE your grocer gets it—

SO you won't have to experiment
ON your breakfast table.
YOU know it's going to be Good!

RADER GOES TO CHINA ON MISSION TOUR

Evangelist Plans Several Months' Campaign.

VISITED HERE

Dr. Winrod Will Direct Chicago Tabernacle.

Paul Rader, of Chicago, who held a series of meetings in the First United Presbyterian church here last spring, has gone to China from where he will begin a several months' evangelistic tour. During his absence the Chicago tabernacle which seats 5,000 persons will be under the supervision of Dr. Gerald B. Winrod, of Wichita, Kas. The latter was also one of the leading speakers in the East Liverpool meetings. Another of the then visitors to the city, the Rev. Phillip Sidersky, of Los Angeles, Calif., has been spending the summer in Chicago. At the Rader tabernacle is now being installed one of the largest pipe organs in the world. It is the gift of a Chicago woman. The tabernacle radio band is being directed by Richard J. Oliver.

Will Visit 20 Cities. Rader's trip to China is establishing a missionary precedent in that it is the first time that such a visit is being made by reason of a united request from Chinese Christians. Native Christians under the leadership of Leland Wang, called "the Moody of China," are sponsoring the evangelistic campaign. Rader will speak in no less than 20 of the leading cities on his tour. He was moved to make the trip because the Chinese Christians are forming an organization known as the Chinese Missionary society with the avowed intention of aiding in world evangelization. To make possible Rader's visit, Dr. Gerald Winrod gave up his planned missionary tour to Europe and Palestine this year. During the Rader's absence, Dr. Winrod may be heard every Sunday over radio station WJRT from the Chicago tabernacle. Beginning next Sunday, Dr. A. P. Gentry, who frequently taught the Bible class of the late William Jennings Bryan in Miami, Fla., is to carry on a three-week campaign at the Rader tabernacle.

'BROOKS SPOT' HITS FRUIT

Ohio River Valley Crops Damaged by Disease.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6.—(INS.)—Ohio fruit growers who suffered last year and this from the ravages of Brooks' fruit spot, will meet near Jackson, in Jackson county, on September 10 to hear explanations of control methods for the disease. Plant pathologists and entomologists from the Ohio State university here, will be in charge of the meeting. The fruit growers will assemble at the Sebelinger orchard, which has been the scene of research work for the last two seasons, in the control of the disease. Brooks' fruit spot last year almost ruined the apple crop in the Ohio river valley and has done serious damage again this year. It is a fungus disease which previously had been regarded as of no great importance, and little work on its control had been done until the epidemic of 1928. Successful means of controlling the disease have been worked out and will be explained at the meeting at Jackson, with demonstrations in the orchards where the work has been done. "While Brooks' fruit spot has thus far been prevalent only in southern Ohio, it can become epidemic in any section of the state," says A. L. Pierstorff, extension plant pathologist for the Ohio State university. "It is caused by a cool weather fungus which has caused serious damage as far north as New Hampshire and Maine."
